Many of the library's journal article databases offer an interface tailored for the smaller screens of mobile devices such as iPhones, Androids, and Blackberries. To find journal articles using a mobile device do the following:

Connect to www.carlow.edu/library and select Off Campus Access to Library Services. Select this option even if you are on the Carlow campus.

On the next screen enter in your Active Directory username and password and select Login.

Your Active Directory username and password is the same username and password you use to access Blackboard, email and the campus lab computers.

You will now see a page with links to access the mobile interface to any EBSCOhost databases.

*You will see a list of all the available EBSCOhost databases after you log into the EBSCOhost mobile interface site.
If you select the EBSCOhost mobile interface, on the next screen choose EBSCOhost Mobile.

A list of all the EBSCOhost databases will appear. Choose the database(s) you wish to search. Then enter your terms and search as usual to view articles about that topic.

More information about how to search library databases can be found on the library’s research guide web site http://www.carlow.edu/Research_Guides.aspx
